From editor's desk:

We are into the last number of current volume. Last month our country witnessed worse terror attack on our financial capital Mumbai. We salute to all NSG commandoes, police and fire fighters for their brave effort to save human life and property. We pay floral tributes to all persons who lost their lives. May god give peace in heaven to their souls.

The current edition of journal has two commentaries and begins with "Bioterrorism" another worst form of these terror attacks frequently talked nowadays. It has also three original articles, three case reports and one short communication. The first original article compares different stress factor among students and staff in Rural Medical University. The second original article features retrospective method of intramedullary nailing in cases of diaphyseal fractures. Third article on very low birth weight baby overviews the challenges for obstetrician and pediatrician. In last section we have teasing quiz along with abstract.

In the end let's pledge to fight terror in unity in our country.
