Invitation

Happy New Year and warm season's greetings...

It is a matter of immense pleasure and privilege to invite you to participate in the International Conference on 'Social Innovations in Global Public Health & Nursing Care' to be held on 7th – 9th January 2020 at Pravara Institute of Medical Sciences – Deemed to be University, Loni (Bk), Tal. Rahata, Dist. Ahmednagar, Maharashtra, India.

Universal health coverage is one of the most pressing objectives of the World Health Organization (WHO). A billion people worldwide lack access to basic health care services, even when proven treatments exist. To extend health care and services to the most remote regions and marginalized populations, we must actively engage people and communities as the principal actors in their own health.

Gaps continue to exist in health systems and access to health services in rural, tribal and urban India, despite advances in disease prevention and control, diagnosis and treatment. Social innovations provide a fresh lens to strengthen health systems and primary health care. Through participatory approaches, novel solutions are designed and implemented by innovators, health system actors and other actors to address complex and longstanding health problems. Social innovations can be process, systems, roles or behavioral practices, or new paradigms and policies. They enable health care delivery to be more inclusive, effective and affordable. Social innovation tackles “how” to improve health, by engaging communities in creating and sustaining solutions.

We look forward to your gracious presence and contributions in this conference. On behalf of organizing committee, we assure you that every possible effort will be made to see that your participation in the conference is worth, meaningful, productive and memorable.

Social Innovations in Health of PIMS – DU

The insights and lessons learned derived from our COME and other grass roots community owned primary health & nursing care projects which include Rural and Tribal Health Centres, Mobile Medical and Dental Clinics, E-health centres, Motorbike Ambulance and Motorbike Health Clinics, ArogyaMitra (Health Guide), Gram Arogya Bank (Village Health Bank), Care Mother mHealth, School Health Hygiene and Environment Program etc cast light on the valuable role of social innovation can play in strengthening health systems in remote rural and tribal areas and achieve UHC in India.

This conference proposes to “show case” the Community oriented Medical and Health Sciences Education (COME) Pedagogy, Social Innovations in health care delivery and health promotion initiated by Pravara Institute of Medical Sciences – DU, Loni in collaboration with various regional, national and international partners, especially Drake University and The New Jersey University, USA. While showcasing community engaged approaches in transforming health care delivery, we illustrate how social innovations can accelerate progress towards Universal Health Coverage and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Aim

To present the diversity of approaches and social innovations and projects of Centre for Social Medicine & College of Nursing that has been initiated by Pravara Institute of Medical Sciences - Deemed to be University to address grassroots health challenges in Maharashtra, India.
